UNIVERSAL SCREEN MAGAZINE.

Vol. 1 / Issue No. 9—Released March 9.

Issue No. 9 of the Universal Screen Magazine begins with views of Doctor Edward F. Bigelow, the noted bee culturist who instructs Boy Scout Masters in the art of handling bees with security. The doctor has never been stung, though he has handled millions of bees.

Cutting ice on the upper reaches of the Hudson River for storage is the next subject. The third shows the making of frankfurters and sausages, under the rules of inspection of the New York Board of Health.

Casting the death mask of Admiral Dewey is then shown. The sculptor Ulric S. J. Dunbar, who made the masks of McKinley, Garfield and Grant, and many other famous men, is seen working on the mold, filling the cast with plaster of paris, and breaking the mold when it has hardened. A few minutes with Willie Hopkins and his animated sculpture close the reel.
